Analysis of Q1 Results

Q1 EPS of $.01 (exclusive of $.13 legal settlement gain) matched our estimate as lower than expected operating expenses offset lower than expected revenues. Q1 revenue declined 3.9% YOY to $34.3 million vs. our estimate of $36 million due to lower than expected EDG division sales. The company had previously guided for Q1 revenue of $35-$37 million. Q1 EDG sales of $25.5 million were flat YOY and missed our estimate of $27 million due to vertical weakness in industrial heating, broadcast, and aviation. Vertical strength continues in the auto market for CO2 lasers and sales into the semiconductor wafer fabrication market have now stabilized. Previous geographical weakness in Europe and parts of Asia has also stabilized. Canvys sales declined 12.4% YOY to $8.8 million, slightly below our estimate of $9 million due to tentative cap ex spending for PACS (Picture Archive Communication Systems) by U.S. hospitals stemming from uncertainty around the Affordable Care Act and a one-time significant order in the prior year. Europe appears to have stabilized for this segment. In July the company completed the acquisition of a small German engineering firm for approximately $1 million. The acquisition gives the company entrance into the $200 million power capacitor market. The company continues to evaluate acquisition opportunities within the healthcare diagnostic imaging replacement parts market but reports that acquisition pricing has been higher than expected. The company repurchased .6 million shares in the quarter for $6.7 million. The pace of stock buybacks has continued thus far in Q2. Approximately $18 million of stock buybacks remain authorized. If fully promulgated this could reduce the company's share count by over 10%. The balance sheet remains strong with $132 million ($8.98/share) in cash and cash equivalents and $0 debt.

Outlook

The company is guiding for Q2 revenue of $35-$37 million, the midpoint of which represents flat YOY growth and 5% sequential growth. Generally speaking, demand appears to have stabilized. The company is forecasting an effective tax rate of 29% for FY14 and remains focused on cost control. Uncertainty for Canvys regarding the impact of the Affordable Care Act and foreign currency exposure remain the primary risk factors. The stock trades below tangible book value of $12.10 and offers a 2% dividend yield with potential meaningful stock buy backs, therefore representing an attractive opportunity for value investors. Potential upside resides in accretive acquisitions and better than expected performance from the EDG division stemming from 2014 rebound forecasts for the semiconductor wafer fabrication vertical and exposure to growing international auto production via CO2 laser product sales.
